

Japan Airlines Launches Nonstop between JFK and Tokyo- Haneda

New Route Increases Pacific Joint Business Network with American Airlines

New York – April 1, 2017 – Japan Airlines (JAL) has increased its trans-Pacific network with the launch of daily service between New York –John F. Kennedy (JFK) and Tokyo-Haneda (HND) starting April 1. JAL’s newest route will operate as part of the airline’s joint business with fellow oneworld alliance member American Airlines.

JAL celebrated the opening of its ninth continental U.S. route by holding gate ceremonies at both HND and JFK airports.

“We are pleased to provide our customers with more flight options to and from the U.S. East Coast by introducing this new daily nonstop between JFK and Haneda” said Akira Kimura, Japan Airlines’ Senior Vice President - The Americas. “This service is also conveniently timed to allow for same-day connections to and from 27 domestic destinations in Japan. “

JAL will operate its JAL SKY SUITE 777 (Boeing 777-300ER) aircraft on the new route, which is fitted with the airline’s latest cabin interiors and seats in a four-class cabin configuration featuring 8 JAL SUITE seats in First Class, 49 fully lie-flat JAL SKY SUITE seats in Business Class, 40 JAL SKY PREMIUM seats in Premium Economy Class and 147 JAL SKY WIDER seats in Economy Class. The aircraft is equipped with Wi-Fi and offers touchscreen monitors and universal AC power access.
